HARRISBURG, Nov. 20.—Spurgeon Bowser, former president of the Pioneer Materials Company, Kittanning, and a principal witness in the state's blackmail case against Democratic leader David L. Lawrence, was called to the witness stand today in Lawrence's trial.

Lawrence is charged with extorting $5,000 from Bowser for helping the Pioneer firm get a state gravel contract and with failing to register the sum with the Democratic state treasurer as a campaign contribution.

Denial By Griffith

Harrisburg, Nov. 20.—Edward A. Griffith, former Earle administration highway engineer, and a key prosecution witness, today denied under cross-examination in the David L. Lawrence blackmail trial that he had been asked by Lawrence or other Democrats to help obtain a state contract for the Pioneer Materials Company.

Recalled to the stand for his fourth day of testimony, Griffith testified that neither Lawrence, John Verona late Pittsburgh politician, nor Spurgeon Bowser, head

German Admiralty Denies Responsibility For Floating Mines

(International News Service)

BERLIN, Nov. 20.—The German admiralty vehemently denied today that German mines were responsible for the sinkings of eight vessels off the east coast of England over the weekend.

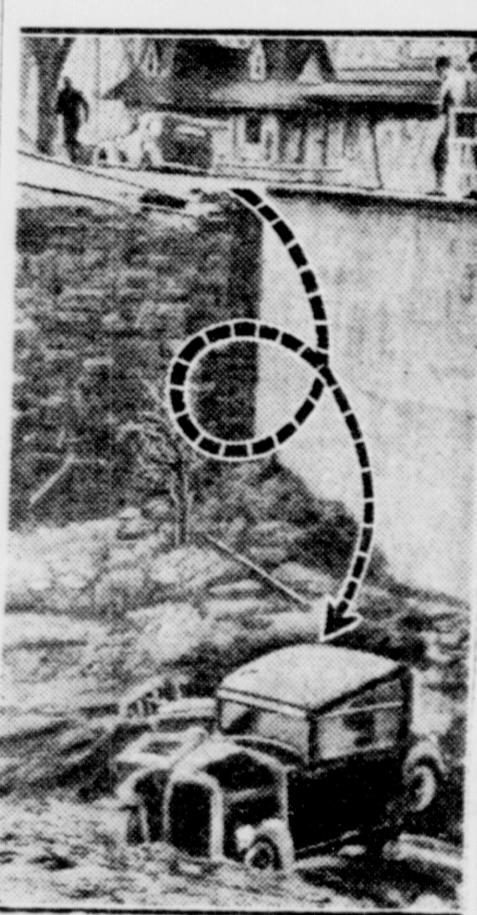

Admiralty officials also pointed out that the English contention that German submarines sowed the mines was scarcely credible. They stated that submarine technically are unable to lay mines. If they could do so, German submarines would choose British naval harbors for such activities.

In addition, it was asserted, the heavy westerly winds prevailing for the past 10 days would not have permitted German mines to drift towards the English coast.

The admiralty expressed the opinion that the British were laying mines in the path of neutral vessels to compel them to accept British convoys, and that the British fear their harbors are too vulnerable to German attacks.

Mysterious Airplane Circles Over Outskirts Of London At Great Height

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

LONDON, Nov. 20.—Anti-aircraft guns on the outskirts of Britain's capital opened up today when a mysterious airplane, yet unidentified, swept up the Thames estuary at a great height and circled the outskirts of London.

The craft passed over Essex and Kent and then headed up the Thames, drawing fire from defense guns. The plane continued toward London but disappeared before it could be sighted over the capital itself.

Priorly anti-aircraft guns had opened fire on an unidentified white plane seen at a high altitude over a town on the southeastern coast. It was not established whether this was the same machine which later headed up the Thames.

Soviet And Japan Plan For Agreement On Border

(International News Service)

MOSCOW, Nov. 20.—Soviet Russia and Japan have concluded an agreement on the composition of a mixed commission to demarcate the Mongolian-Manchukuoan frontier, the Tass (Russia) news agency said today.

The agency added that the agreement also stipulates the work to be undertaken by the commission. It stated the accord was signed by Soviet Premier-Foreign Commissioner V. M. Molotov and Japanese Ambassador Shigemori Togo.

According to Tass, Molotov and Togo took the opportunity to exchange views on "fundamental principles on which a Soviet-Japanese trade agreement must be based."

Disputes along the Mongolian-Manchukuoan border led to clashes between armed forces that reached the proportions of regular warfare before a truce finally ended the hostilities some weeks ago. At that time it was decided to name a commission to demarcate the border.

Moscow authorities also revealed that Russia and Germany signed an agreement on Thursday for repatriation of Germany Nationals in Soviet-occupied Western White Russia and the Western Ukraine (former Polish territory) and of Soviet Nationals now living in Germany-occupied Poland.

Dr. F. E. Townsend And Senator Downey Present Townsend Plan Appeal

Sheridan Downey, junior United States senator from the State of California, and Dr. Francis E. Townsend, father of the Townsend national pension plan, presented that plan to an audience of approximately 1500, Sunday afternoon, in the Cathedral auditorium.

There were few extras to take time from the speaking program, the only things being the singing of "America" by the audience, directed by Y. M. C. A. leader, Sam Maitland and a plea for funds made midway in the program by Robert Monaghan, secretary to Dr. Townsend. Mayor Charles E. McGrath introduced both of the principal speakers and Albert Taylor presented an organ recital for half an hour before the meeting opened.

Downey Greeted Crowd

Senator Downey is a speaker who depends upon the magic of his voice to get results and it does. In his address he advocated nothing save the adoption of the Townsend plan and thus he did in a way that apparently had the crowd with him.

"The issue for which we are striving is imperative and vital," said Senator Downey. "No one can exaggerate the hazardous condition of America just now, and unless we learn to distribute a vastly augmented purchasing power without adding to the national debt, unemployment will increase."

The economists in Washington realize we have done not one thing to remedy the situation. Only ten years ago we were plunged into war.

President At White House
For Brief Period Enroute
To Georgia

TO WARM SPRINGS
FOR THANKSGIVING

By GEORGE DURNO
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 20.
Third term speculation grew as a result of President Roosevelt's week-end at Hyde Park but best information was—as he returned briefly to the White House enroute to Warm Springs for Thanksgiving—that the chief executive intended to sit tight and let the American public decide that burning issue for itself.

Bogged on all sides for weeks to declare his intentions about the 1940 nomination, Mr. Roosevelt consistently has parried all questions and ridiculed quite a bit of the printed speculations.

One of his closest associates, however, is sponsor of this prediction:
"I think the president is going to see wood—watch the European war—and say nothing. If there should be a far-reaching popular reaction in favor of a third term he probably would respond to it. Lacking such a call he is prepared to retire to his Hyde Park home on January 20, 1941."

The reference to "watching the European war" obviously called attention to the president's foreign policy, which has proved widely popular among Republicans and conservative Democrats who otherwise strongly oppose the new deal. Developments along the Maginot-Siegfried line, in the submarine-infested Atlantic, and in the air during the next six months may well have a marked bearing on the action of the nominating delegates at next June's national convention.

Soloists Featured

Featured during the concert were two soloists, selected from the entire chorus group. They were Olga Metrovich of Greenville, a soprano, and Jack James, Sharon, who sings baritone.

Selection of 32 out of the 160 students for participation in the all-star chorus to be held in Knox-Pa., on December 13, 14 and 15, was made during the three-day stay here and announced Saturday night
by President Kearns.

Those from Lawrence county who will take part in this state event include Betty Lou Rudessil and The-ma Wink from Union high, Sylvia Koski, Shemango township, and Betty Eppinger of Plaingrove.

At a business session of the P. S.
M. A. held Saturday afternoon, and presided over by Mr. Kearns, discussion was heard proposing the change of the concert day from Saturday to Friday in the future.

Banquet Event

Saturday evening, just before the public concert, a banquet was held for the chorus and the directors in the school dining hall. LeRoy Rowley, host conductor, and director of music at Union high, presented each director with a gift.

William McCune, president of the Union Parent-Teachers Association, spoke briefly at the banquet, stressing the importance of music to schools as well as to the students and the community.

Group singing was featured during the banquet and was led by W.
G. Jenkins of Sharpsville.

According to Mr. Rowley, the Union P. T. A. was largely responsi-

U-boats are being lost weekly," the spokesman continued "this is telling severely on the Germans.

The present German mine-laying campaign is symptomatic of German desperation. The mining is undoubtedly quite indiscriminate, in utter disregard of international law, and is apparently increasing as the nights in the North sea become longer.

"There is no shadow of excuse for sinking any ship, belligerent or neutral, without putting the passengers and crew to safety."

The sole excuse given by the German propaganda ministry is that we are defensively arming merchantmen. But the right to arm merchant ships for defense has been recognized everywhere, including the German prize court in 1914.

breast bone test. The end of the bone farthest from the head is generally quite pliable in a young bird and can be moved from side to side to a raft for three hours. No loss of life was reported aboard the Blackhill.

Twenty-nine of the Grazia's survivors were rescued by British fishermen who rowed out in large life-boats. No details of the sinking of the Cargin Milica were given in an admiralty announcement, which stated:

"The B. O. Borjesson, the Black-hill and Grazia sunk off the east coast by German mines under circumstances similar to those which surrounded the sinkings of the Simon Bolivar and the Garcia Milica."

British naval authorities charged that the Germans, unable to cripple allied shipping by submarine attacks, are attempting to achieve this object by a "mine blockade."

They declared that Britain will undertake a gigantic campaign to clear vital waterways of floating mines to prevent a recurrence of such sinkings.

Meanwhile, an Exchange Telegraph dispatch from Paris said a French survey ship was reported to have sunk a German submarine.

According to the report, the official navy gazette cited the commander of the 719-ton French survey ship Admiral Mouchet for "his quickness of decision and perservancy in carrying out a night coun-

DAUGHTERS OF 1812
MEET AT DINSMORES

New Castle Field club members have a busy week in store for the Thanksgiving holiday period, several events being planned especially for their pleasure.

Starting off activities will be the stag tonight with Elmer Reiber presiding in the role of host. Play will begin at 8:30 o'clock, the club house providing a perfect mecca to talk over bowling games which the various members participate in earlier in the evening. A dutch lunch will follow the informal program.

On Wednesday evening, the Thanksgiving dance will be featured in the club ballroom, with a favorite orchestra being engaged to provide the program of music. The first tune will be sounded at 9:30 o'clock, and it is expected a large number of guests will attend.

Thursday night at the club, both men and women will gather to join in the bridge game, for which lovely prizes will be awarded to those winning honors. Hosts on this date will be Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Strayer and play will get underway at 8:15 o'clock.

W. C. Club Meets

Mrs. William Wanatosky, 315 Sycamore street, entertained members of the W. C. Club in her home on Friday night. Three tables of 500 were in play during the hours and high score prizes were awarded to Mrs. Mendel Blews, Mrs. Ernest Brooks and Mrs. Ruth West.

Mrs. Delores Furlong was a special guest. A delicious luncheon was served by the hostess aided by Mrs. Furlong and Mrs. Brooks. Next meeting will be held on December 1, at the home of Mrs. William Murphy, Highland Heights.

MRS. WM. McIVOR IS TENDERED SURPRISE

Mrs. William McIvor, nee Mary Alice Towers whose marriage was recently announced, was taken completely by surprise Saturday evening when she arrived at her home on Clemmore Boulevard to find a group of 18 or more friends waiting to tender her a shower.

The occasion was planned by Mrs. W. B. McIvor, mother-in-law of the honoree, and a collection of many lovely gifts of a miscellaneous nature were given the bride to use in her home.

LUCK HELPS THE COTTON FARMER

LUCK, not good management either by himself or by the Government, is lifting the American cotton farmer out of the slough of despond. The European war has much to do with it.

For a time it was thought that our cotton growers had permanently lost their foreign markets to powerful competitors who were directly aided by the policies of the AAA. Huge domestic surpluses piled up in warehouses. Prices were away down.

Now better times at home and increased demand abroad indicate prosperity for the cotton producer. The prospective 1940 crop is nearly 12,000,000 bales. Domestic consumption and exports, it is estimated, could take care of 1,500,000 bales more.

The war has removed Egypt and India from the role of competitors in the foreign cotton market. To fill orders for American cotton, large supplies will have to be withdrawn from the warehouses. They have been held as collateral for loans to the farmers, who will have to pay both the loans and the storage charges, which will be added to the price for foreign buyers.

So far once the Government may not be left holding the bag. Foreigners will have to pay a fair price, and, for the time being, at least, all concerned will be happy. "It's an ill wind," etc. But it should not have taken a foreign war to make cotton-growing profitable in this country and to rescue our Government from the results of an ill-conceived scheme.

DEVELOPING ANOTHER WARM ISSUE

Developing trade with Latin America is about to give rise to an exceedingly warm issue in the United States. In concerns the defaulted Latin American bonds.

They are bonds of the Latin American republics in the amount of nearly $2,000,000,000 now outstanding. Hundreds of millions of them are held in the United States. Mostly they are in default. The Administration at Washington is anxious for an agreement clearing up the defaulted issues to permit this country to make more loans to Latin America so that Latin America may buy more United States goods. Congress has limited the Export-Import bank to $100,000,000 of foreign credit extensions and the Administration wants this doubled at least in 1940 and, although it could probably dig up other money for the purpose, it wants the complete consent of Congress.

The suspicion is gaining ground that any settlement will be at the expense of United States holders. It is known that Latin America has not gone nearly as far as it might in servicing the bonds and the thought that United States holders will have to continue being the goat does not sit well.

COST OF NATIONAL DEFENSE

The current cost of U. S. national defense, on an annual basis, is about $1,500,000,000. The armed services, if President Roosevelt approves, will seek to have this sum doubled at the next session of Congress.

The War Department alone wants a total annual appropriation of $1,700,000,000, part of which would be used to forward a plan for equipping a force of 1,000,000 men. The naval budget would be revised upward to a total of $1,300,000,000. Thus the total annual cost of national defense would reach the unprecedented sum of $3,000,000,000, and this quite apart from the project to increase our naval tonnage 25 per cent within five years at a cost of $1,300,000,000.

There is not much doubt that these sums, or sums close to them, will be appropriated or authorized. Congress is in the mood to arm, and public sentiment supports the Congressional thesis. Adequate national defense all of us want. It is to be hoped, however, that those in control of the armed services will not abuse this public sentiment, will not take advantage of public feeling to seek an expansion that goes further than practical defense requires.

Generals and admirals have professional enthusiasm for large and impressive establishments. That can be well understood. Federal Budget Director H. D. Smith appeals for "common sense," however, in resisting extravagant defense expenditures. The $1,500,000,000 now being spent and billions still to come, are charges upon the public purse. Where are these huge sums to be obtained, except from the pocketbook of each of us?

Part of these sums could be obtained through savings elsewhere, but that seems like a forlorn hope. Chairman Eccles of the Federal Reserve Board believes that national defense should be financed not through borrowing but through increased revenues—that is, increased taxation. Mr. Eccles' plan would bring home to the mass of the people just how much government is costing.

If we want adequate national defense—and all of us do—we're going to have to dig up the cash. Congress is liable to postpone increases in taxation, this being the eve of a Presidential campaign, but sooner or later the defense bill will have to be paid.

As Dr. Roswell Magill, former undersecretary of the treasury, points out, our national debt is now 30 times as high as it was before the World War.

We are approaching our statutory debt limit of $45,000,000,000 now, and our national defense program will speed us toward that limit.

It is, therefore, reassuring to be told that Congress will scrutinize requests for expansion of the armed services to make certain that a line is drawn between what is adequate and what is extravagant and wasteful.

The Parent Problem

By GARRY C. MEYERS, Ph. D.

TIP FOR COLLEGE STUDENTS Those young men and women who are attending college for the first time will pretty well establish this semester their habits of writing home, for their entire college career. Perhaps these students will welcome a few suggestions from one who entered college 33 years ago.

If, as was true in my case, it means a financial sacrifice to your parents to help you go to college then you have a peculiar opportunity to prove your sense of obligation by keeping in close touch with them by writing them regularly.

You will want to do so regardless.

There's hardly a good reason why you should write home every day, but certainly you will once or twice a week. Provide enough time in your program so that you can write a letter worthy of your writing and their reading. Have the reader more in mind than the writer, if you want to get and give most happiness. Dad and mother may not see so well as you do; more than eyes are needed to read some letters home. When I remember the careless penmanship I employed, to write my father and mother, I feel ashamed. More to my shame, I used to enjoy hearing them complain about their difficulties in reading my letters. I used to think bad writing was something to be proud of.

Furthermore, I recall that I used to employ many words telling how busy I was at college. How I enjoyed Mother's letters in reply: They begged me not to work so hard and expressed great anxiety about my health. It was a subtle way I had of telling her how great and important I thought I was. What curious things we do!

Some Shock Parents

Some students get satisfaction out of writing home things to shock their parents—another curious mode of seeking selfish satisfaction.

If you really want to bring happiness to your parents, and prove to them your feelings of loyalty and affection, you will try to write to them of your experiences about as accurately as possible, in a way that will give a pretty true picture of your college life.

HELP NEEDED

If you are companionable with your parents, you will not feel the need of censoring. Rather, you will in your conduct be somewhat guided by the question, "Will this be something I would like to write home about?" No doubt such a standard has helped many a young man and woman to live at college a fairly decent and useful life.

We know that some things, bringing us only temporary satisfaction are followed maybe, by remorse. We have pride in our ability to pilot our own lives. At quiet moments, when we measure values carefully and calmly, we grow interested in tomorrow, next year, ten years from now. There's no better goal in life than happiness, if we look beyond the here and now.

SOUL BOY

Do you wish to cultivate ease and effectiveness of expression—and wish to write well? Your letters home, if you do them carefully, afford you splendid training. If in them you were to incorporate a few things you have learned at college, in a form in which your parents would enjoy them, a great deal of pleasure and learning would be created for you and them.

SOULDIER

Q. My boy, five years old is bent on building tress. All punishments seem to have failed.

A. Go with him to a safe open place with a large amount of materials which will burn. Force him to start fires there, one after another, for an hour or two, until starting a fire becomes a boresome and painful experience. Then share with him more love and comradeship during the next several months.

WE APOLOGIZE

Newspapermen have to develop thick skins to get along in this controversial world. Expression of opinion naturally brings brick-bats as well as boquets.

But from Miss Mary McCormic, the much-wed opera star, comes criticism which the Fourth Estate will just have to take. Announcing her forthcoming marriage to a Chicago man, the prezzy generally stated it would be her fifth altar trip. Said Miss McCormic, "I have been married only three times so far—not four. Gosh! I marry 'em—why can't you newspapermen count 'em?"

For an errr in fact—gallantly conceding without a 'recount' that Miss McCormic's arithmetic is correct—the press must stand rebuked.

In editorial defense, however, we wish to remind the romantic songbird that most everybody—including newspapermen and opera stars—makes mistakes. That's why they put erasers on pencils, rubber mats, under cupboards, and operate divorce courts!

Anyway, good luck, Miss McCormic, on your fifth—pardon fourth—try at matrimony. Such persistence in seeking to correct mistakes deserves success.

Wonders what would happen if all the people in the United States were ordered not to operate their automobiles? Those orders are being issued and obeyed in some European countries. Bet there would be a row here if we had to leave the cans at home.

Two men were talking on Mercer street yesterday and one said, "This fellow coming down the street is a terrible flatterer." "Oh, did he say you were good looking?" "No, he said you were ugly."

The Department of Justice in Washington may have to stop it's investigating of the high cost of building because of the lack of funds. Those who would like to build also have to not build because of the lack of not enough funds.

When the farmers get more for their products they always find they have to pay more for the things they buy in town. So far Washington has not put out that stuff of the producer getting more for his product and the consumer getting it for less.

in politics was asked who he thought best equipped for the Presidency of the United States. Without hesitation he replied "Herbert Hoover, but he can't be elected."

IT IS an amazing situation—that the best equipped man should be considered least eligible for the nomination. It is a reflection upon the clear-headedness of the people and it is evidence of the power of the financed forces of misrepresentation, but it is none the less the fact. Those who know Mr. Hoover best say that he knows this situation better than anyone else. They are convinced that he isn't a candidate for the nomination and at 65 has no desire to take on again the burden of the Presidency. What Mr. Hoover is interested in, his friends say, is in equipping the Republican party with a set of sound principles seeing that it nominates a sound man who can be depended upon to correct the New Deal economic heresies, masquerading under the name of liberalism, before it is too late.

History Of Moravia Church Is Presented

In connection with the recent anniversary of the Moravia Presbyterian church, a fine history of the congregation was given. It was prepared by Mrs. A. R. Eckles. The history as summarized in briefer form is given hereewith.

The Moravia Presbyterian church had its inception in the summer of 1885 when five women, Mrs. Benjamin Graham, Mrs. S. J. Britton, Mrs. G. V. Morrow, Mrs. James McConaghay and Mrs. N. L. Stockman organized a Sabbath school to be conducted in the old red brick school house at East Moravia. This Sabbath school flourished and grew in membership and after two years arrangements were made to have preaching services on alternate Sabbath afternoons at East Moravia and Leonard School houses. These services were largely attended and were conducted by Rev. C. H. Dunlap of the First Presbyterian church of New Castle. Rev. William Taylor of the Westfield Presbyterian church, Rev. J. S. Die of the Bethel U.P. church, Rev. M. H. Calkins of the Second Presbyterian church (now Central Presbyterian church) New Castle, Rev. I. A. Thayer of the Park Christian church, New Castle and Rev. Brewster of the Mahonington Presbyterian church.

In 1888 the Newport Presbyterian congregation, which had existed since 1846, decided to move and rebuild a new church at Wampum. A number of the members residing in the vicinity of Moravia conceived the idea of joining with the Sabbath school mentioned and establishing a church at Moravia, and upon petition of a number of persons to the Presbytery of Shenango on December 10, 1888, a committee was appointed "to visit and inquire into the needs of that community; and also granting authority to organize Moravia was formally dedicated Sunday, with a large number in attendance.

The following was the program: Prayer, Rev. M. H. Calkins; hymn by choir; reading of Scripture and prayer, Rev. Mechlin; dedicatory sermon, Rev. C. H. Dunlap; Alexander Duff, treasurer of the church, then made his report. It was as follows: Money received, $2,611.68. Money paid out, $2,610.23, balance in treasury $1.65.

These funds had all been paid in prior to the dedication and it was unnecessary to raise any money during the dedicatory services. The new church is quite a handsome structure and great credit to those whose liberality erected it.

The pulpit was filled with supplies until December 23, 1890, when the Rev. John C. Pickens was formally installed its first pastor. Rev. William Taylor of Mt. Jackson, Pa., delivered the installation sermon. Rev. C. H. Dunlap delivered the charge to the pastor, and Rev. M. H. Calkins delivered the charge to the congregation.

Rev. Pickens continued its devoted pastor until 1902, rendering an excellent service to the community. Only nine of the 51 charter members are now living, namely: Mrs. Nevada Morrow (Book), Mrs. Lydia McConaghay (Deuds), Mrs. Margaret J. Hennen, Mrs. Laura Book (Johnston), Mr. and Mrs. Harry V. Brown, George E. Leslie, Mrs. Carrie Davis Alley, Mrs. Relief McConaghay (Hartung).

Only one of the above mentioned members, Mrs. Laura Book (Johnston), remains as a member of the congregation. Two of the sons of the congregation entered the ministry: Rev. James B. Kelso of Denver, Colo., and Rev. W. G. Feltham of Elizabeth, N.J.

The Session of the church today is composed of J. Charles Leslie, Herbert A. Leslie and S. S. Brest; and trustees: N. R. Duff, S. D. Kyle, Frank Kennedy, Lee Gwin, Lee McKinley and J. W. Anderson.

Rev. John C. Pickens, now deceased, was the first pastor, serving from 1890 to 1902. Other succeeding ministers have been B. J. Ling, Rev. J. R. Loughner, Rev. H. J. Baumgartel and Rev. Smith Ordway. The present pastor, Rev. T. C. Henderson, has served since 1920.

On Tuesday, October 29, 1889, the committee met with the petitioners and others, and formally granted the organization. Thirty persons presented certificates of good standing in Evangelical churches and 21 were received upon profession of faith as a result of one week of Evangelical services that had been held in the new building preceding the time set for the organization. Josiah Hennen, James Beacon and George V. Morrow were elected elders. A. R. Bright, Harvey S. Leonard and B. G. Graham, trustees. The following is an extract preserved from a newspaper clipping describing the dedication of the church.

Improvement Of North Jefferson Street Approved

During council meeting in the city building today colleagues adopted a motion, introduced by Councilman J. D. Alexander, authorizing an improvement of North Jefferson street between Wilmington avenue and the city line. The project will provide employment for at least 75 men during the winter.

A storm sewer will be constructed, following which the thoroughfare will be graded, curbed and paved.

The cost of paving materials will be assessed against the abutting property owners.

According to another measure decided upon the cartway will be 30 instead of 45 feet.

Local Degree Team Initiates 72; Throng Here On Sunday

With the head of Ohio's Loyal Order of Moose organization as their honor guest for the day, New Castle's Moose lodge, in special degree ceremonies Sunday afternoon, welcomed 72 new members into their fold.

The Ohio State Moose association president, Judge R. C. Knee of Dayton, was principal speaker during the initiatory program.

Between 350 and 400 Moose members, many from distant points in Pennsylvania, came to participate in the impressive ritual exercises in Moose hall, South Mercer street. At the close of the afternoon initiation, a lunch was served. The informal part of the program continued into the evening.

Rocket Eleven Celebrates Here

Coach N. Kerr Thompson Gets Birthday Gift; Event Held Saturday

Coach N. Kerr Thompson and his undefeated Slippery Rock Teachers football team celebrated here Saturday night.

Shortly after the powerful Rocket eleven had pancaked California Teachers 54-0, Coach Thompson and his jubilant athletes gathered in the home of Joseph Weresuk, Butler road, a member of the varsity team, for a gala party.

The event also commemorated the 51st birthday of Thompson. Following a delicious dinner, the athletes presented their mentor with a derby.

Honored guests included: Merle "Red" McIntosh, assistant coach; Dr. A. P. Vincent, a member of the Slippery Rock faculty, and Claire B. Book, this city.

For the event the table was appropriately arranged. The school colors, green and white, were predominant. A cake upon which was inscribed the words "Undefeated Season," adorned the center.

Tessie Weresuk was a charming hostess. Olga Lypyni and Olga Lisko assisted.

Blame Gas Fumes For Explosion Of Oil Co. Tanker

International News Service BAYONNE, N. J., Nov. 20—Accumulated gas fumes and not saboteurs today was believed responsible for the blast that shattered a Standard Oil tanker at her Bayonne, N. J. pier, causing damage estimated at $200,000.

The explosion ripped a gaping hole in the deck of the tanker amidships and shook the immediate area as if an earthquake had struck.

The vessel, the J. A. MoWinckel flying the flag of Panama brought 8,250,000 gallons of oil from Venezuela five days ago but had been drained of her cargo when the blast occurred.

DR. TOWNSEND AND SENATOR DOWNEY PRESENT APPEAL

heights of prosperity to the depths of depression. This year we spend from four to five billion dollars more of borrowed money and this can't go on much longer.

Every year there comes to the labor market half a million young men and women. Half of them are doomed to idleness because in this magnificent country we do not have the brains to initiate ways to increase buying power. Either the Townsend people are crazy or else the people who oppose them are crazy. Maybe we have to continue to live with millions in want and farm products being destroyed to prevent surpluses. Are we crazy, who preach the philosophy of abundance, who want to give old people enough to eat and wear, to give young people jobs and provide new markets?

"Ham and Eggs" Defeat

"Don't let anybody tell you the defeat of the 'Ham and Eggs' plan in California weakened the Townsend strength. Two million votes were cast against the 'Ham and Eggs' plan but 75 per cent of the people voting against it did so because the plan was a state plan. The Townsend people were against it because they believe a pension plan should be national in its scope.

"Under the present society security act we don't pay one cent to anybody except those over 65 who can show need, and then the average is about $20 per month. All we ask is an adequate social dividend for people over 60, and if we could get the results in New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio and Illinois with respect to strength for the Townsend plan, we would get it."

Downey has the zeal andunction of an old time evangelist as he presents his cause. Waving the microphone away he spoke directly to the people, striding up and down the platform like a "Billy Sunday," pounding away on the plan to pension men and women over 60. As he finished the audience gave him an ovation.

Robert Monaghan, secretary to Dr. Townsend, followed Senator Downey and said they were taking up collections to finance radio time for the plan. He charged the national chains were barring them from the air and said they had to take the smaller, independent stations. No statement of the collection was made but there appeared to be a substantial sum in the plates.

Dr. Townsend Speaks

Mayor McGrath then introduced Dr. Townsend, where Senator Downey was evangelical in his presentation. Dr. Townsend is patriarchal. He showed the effects of the campaign upon his physical energies and spoke in the restrained manner of one who was tired.

Dispassionately he developed his idea of providing for citizens over 60. "We have always had systems of subsidization," said Dr. Townsend. "We subsidized settlement of new lands by giving lands, timber, oil, away. We subsidized schools, steamship lines, the airplane industry and new enterprises that spring up and this is a natural and logical thing to do. Why shouldn't we subsidize the most important thing of all, markets? What aids us today is that about half of our markets have disappeared. Deprive 15 million people of purchasing power and you injure business. Isn't it our job to rebuild markets?"

"We have suggested that the government engage in national insurance, a retirement annuity for senior citizens. We can get the money for this by taxation, a two per cent tax upon all gross incomes in order to provide a stabilization fund. This tax money so received would be prorated among the senior citizens who would be retired from active participation in business or industry, younger people would get jobs and because the older people would have to spend the money they get within the month, markets would be built up for more goods and services."

Hunters Get Fine Trip But No Bear

Three Local Men See 19-Year-Old Youth Who Shot Bear That Was After Him

Believing that bear or no bear, a trip to Allegheny National Forest to William G. Patton and son, Gayle, 907 Loraine avenue, and Howard Burdette, 744 Lathrop street, in quest of Mr. Bruno is an experience that will never be forgotten.

Gaylor, who is 14 years old, was the youngest hunter in that section of the big woods on Saturday. The local party reported that 21 bears were killed the first two days of the season in that section, but only one was shot on Saturday.

An interesting story is told by the New Castle hunters about a 19-year-old hunter from Sarver, Pa. bringing down a beautiful 300-pound bear. This young hunter was walking through the woods, when he heard something behind him. Upon turning around, he saw the big animal walking on its hind legs but a short distance behind him.

With the calmness of a veteran hunter, the youth raised his gun and shot the animal between the eyes, bringing it to earth. So close was the range, that the bear's head was destroyed by the fire.

MUSCLE-BUILDING PROTEIN FOUND IN GELATINE

For many months now the papers have been full of items concerning gelatine. Billed as an energy food, some of the better known medical men, friends of mine, are enthusiastic supporters of it.

In general, the work done by gelatine is simple. It is composed of a number of different forms of protein. Now, protein is a muscle-builder and the protein in the gelatine is stored in the muscle tissues in the form of extra energy. Of course we are all interested in this side of the claims made by the gelatine exponents. Athletes have publicly stated they have found themselves more fit for their contests through its use?

But there is another phase to the use of gelatine in which I am especially interested, for it has to do with the welfare of infants and small children. Experiments have been conducted and still are being conducted, to discover the value to babies of gelatine's concentrated proteins.

Of course, breast milk is the natural food for babies and it should be the food for the baby wherever possible. But at times this natural food is not available and then it is up to the physicians to provide the best possible substitute. Raw cow's milk hasn't always been found to be suitable for very young children, and so various feeding formulas have been worked out.

This is where gelatine comes in, and some very interesting experiments have been performed to show its value when added to milk to help form a low-tension curd.

I found the results of the experiments at the University of Maryland particularly interesting because one of the main claims made for gelatine as a result of the tests is that a group of babies who were given it in their milk suffered far less from upper respiratory infections—the common cold.

Any of you who have been following these columns for any length of time know only too well that I regard the common cold and infections that result from it, as about the greatest danger a baby faces. So anything that can be done to cut down the risk of getting this infection, or which will increase the child's ability to resist the infection, will certainly be a boon to him.

Another claim for gelatine, as a result of these experiments is that in the group, the number of cases of diarrhea was also greatly reduced. I have often told what an enemy of babies diarrhea is, how it weakens children, causes them to lose weight and how, if it is not checked, it destroys them.

Protein is a tissue-builder. As tissues in the body are burned up in the form of energy, they must be replaced, and so, to growing children, gelatine should present an available form of this tissue building material. If it is successful in providing grown-ups with energy surely it would be even more valuable to children.

(Special To The News)

MERCER, Nov. 20.—An all time record for completing the official count in Mercer County was hung out here Saturday when the 5½ days of the board was completed by the signing of their work by Judge George H. Rowley.

The feature of the return was the announcement that D. K. Callahan, Greenville, had defeated Geo. W. Boyd, Sharon in the Democratic race for county commissioner by 123 votes.

All Republicans won. The victory is the most complete in eight years in this county for the G. O. P.

Claims Pittsburgh District Is Facing Period Of Sabotage

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 20.—That the Pittsburgh district faces a well-planned period of "sabotage, espionage and labor strife" as soon as big shipments of steel and other supplies begin moving to foreign markets was foreseen today by Martin Dies, chairman of the house un-American activities committee.

At the rate they are progressing now the sabotage will start with the shipments. A number of plants in Pittsburgh already are marked and these agents have definite instruction, from leaders of foreign nations to resort to sabotage."

Dies added that he expected to conduct hearings in Pittsburgh during January and that he had between 50 and 60 men who would testify before his committee "if we can find some way to protect them when they talk."

"We have evidence that agents actually are at work," he declared. "The communists already have begun agitating in labor circles. Both communist and Nazi groups have installed agents in jobs in the key industries.

Joseph H. Boyd, William G. Andrews, H. M. Reynolds and Edward Pritchard, Alderman O. H. P. Green, a relative of Mr. Whaley, and a son, Robert Whaley, Jr., of Greenville were also present.

Sheriff M. M. Ingham was out of the city on a hunting trip, former Sheriff Frank Johnston was at Harrisburg and former Sheriff Edwin R. Ayers of Pulaski were unable to be present.

The evening was very pleasantly spent in recalling experiences in the sheriff's office. Despite his years, former Sheriff Whaley is in good health and was greatly pleased with the dinner in his honor.

AGENTS READY TO START SABOTAGE

(International News Service)

DETROIT, Nov. 20—Communist and Nazi agents in Detroit are preparing to sabotage industrial production to prevent shipment of war supplies to the Allies in Europe, Chairman Martin Dies of the congressional committee investigating un-American activities charged to-day.

He said the knowledge of the sabotage plots forced him to make an emergency trip to Detroit to hold a hearing behind closed doors.

"The informants," he said, "are disgruntled Communists who are giving us this information because they dislike the alliance between Germany and Russia."

Elks Club On Occasion Of His 86th Birthday

Former Sheriff Robert H. Whaley was honored on the occasion of his 86th birthday Saturday evening by other former sheriffs who gave him a dinner in the Elks club. A large birthday cake, ornamented with pink candles and baked by Mr. Whaley's daughter, Mrs. Ruth Elder, occupied the center of the table. There was no room on the cake for a candle representing each year that Mr. Whaley has lived, so the candles were made into an eight and a six.

See that the name Creomulsion is on the bottle and you will get the genuine product and the relief you want. (ADG.)

Student Revolt Brings Gestapo to Czechs

Armed German Storm Troopers and German policemen occupied the Masaryk School and other universities in Prague when students, boys and girls, demonstrated against the Nazis. Top, is a recent student demonstration in Bratislava. Below, is the Masaryk school, where shots were fired as the Nazis placed 1,200 students under arrest. (Central Press)

Another thing that handicaps the Czechs is the fact that a gifted pulpit orator can become a bigger shot by talking politics.

NEW CASTLE HIGH DEFEATS ERIE TECH 14 TO 13

Lauro And Roberts Score Touchdowns In Thrilling Game

New Castle High "Red Hurricane" comes through with victory in final period; Erie Tech puts up stubborn resistance; crowd at Saturday afternoon game below usual size; Sharon High to play here on Thursday.

AFTER trailing for the first half of the game, the New Castle High "Red Hurricane" came back in the second half to defeat hard fighting Erie Tech.

Erie Tech team at Taggart Stadium Saturday afternoon 14 to 13 before the smallest turnout of spectators for the year. It was a thrilling game from start to finish. New Castle will close its season Thursday afternoon by meeting Sharon High here.

In the matter of first downs New Castle had the edge at 9 to 7. In passing, the Erie team had the edge over the "Red Hurricane" making 6 out of 11 passes to 3 out of 11 for the locals. The Erie team was well balanced and for a time it looked as if the Lake City crew was going to upset the Bridenbaugh machine, but a lot of razzle-dazzle plays in the second half, changed the complexion of the game entirely.

Score On Blocked Punt

The Erie team scored midway in the first period as the result of a blocked punt. Gilboy after an exchange of punts following the opening kickoff was backed up on his own 16-yard line and the New Castle team attempted to punt. Gilboy's attempt to kick was blocked by Rossowski and Kwiatkowski sweeping in fowl on the ball back of the goal line for the first Erie touchdown. The extra-point was kicked by Bernik by placement. Erie had the lead at 7 to 0.

As the first period ended the Erie team kicked to New Castle on the 40-yard line and there was just time for one play Roberts picking up a yard to the New Castle 41 as the whistle blew.

Burris went in for Kulinis at the start of the second period. Kulinis went to tackle and Audino came out. Roberts made a first down on the Erie 49-yard line after a nice run. Two more plays and Gilboy kicked to Erie on the 29 yard line.

Erie Tech Threatens

Lubowicki made a first down on the Erie 41 after a nice run through tackle. Knoieczo made a run of six yards through the New Castle left side of the line and then Wisniewski made it first down on the New Castle 43. It looked like an Erie touchdown was in the making as the Tech eleven swept toward the goal line with Wisniewski and Knoieczo carrying the ball to the New Castle 5-yard mark. Wisniewski fumbled on the next play and recovered on the New Castle 9-yard line. Erie drew a five-yard offside penalty and this hurt.

A pass Wisniewski to Kwiatkowski was knocked down. Wisniewski elected to try a field goal but the effort was blocked and New Castle recovered on the New Castle 44 yard

Rescue Squad In Special Meeting

Session Held At Fire Department Building On Sunday Afternoon

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 20—Nineteen members of the Rescue squad of the Ellwood City volunteer fire department held a special meeting on Sunday afternoon in the fire department building to hear reports of those who attended the rescue squad meeting at Meadville on Thursday evening.

As a result of this meeting, rules were made to govern the action of the squad in fire fighting, rescue work, salvage work and any other kind of emergency. All members must take active part and respond every call.

Each member must pass a physical examination and under arrangements of the Ellwood City hospital, have blood tests taken, typed and recorded, for use at any time in the future for blood transfusions. The duties of the squad are divided into groups and leaders were appointed for each group: Robert Duncan, first-aid; Robert Henry, inhalator; Arthur Duncan, salvage and ventilation and John McDevitt, water rescue and life saving.

These leaders have received definite orders to proceed immediately in lining up their courses of instruction and to insure each member of the squad a fair knowledge in each line of work.

B. Y. P. Club Has Meeting Saturday

Plan Debate At Epworth League

ELLWOOD CITY, Nov. 20—An interesting Epworth League meeting was held last night in the Methodist church. Miss Margaret Lusher the first vice president of the league was in charge of the service. The theme was based on Thanksgiving.

In summary, Miss Lusher stated that we have many things to be thankful for. Our freedom of speech and the privilege that each of us has to worship as we please.

A group of nearly 50 Epworth Leaguers enjoyed this fine lecture. It was announced that next Sunday's program would be in the form of a debate. Members taking part will be the Misses Jean Carson and Edith Deniston and the Messers Eugene Fox and Paul Weyrich. This promises to be very interesting. The public is invited to attend this meeting and get an idea just what the Epworth League service is like.

Production Of War Garments Has Been Asked

Production Department Of Lawrence County Chapter Will Begin Work

REFUGEES IN NEED OF HELP

Lawrence County Chapter, American Red Cross, has been asked to begin production of garments to aid refugees from the war stricken areas of Europe, a bulletin asking that the local Chapter meet its quota having been received at the Chapter House today, and the production department of the chapter plans to go into action immediately to meet the demand.

Knitted garments, including socks and sweaters, hospital garments, and winter clothing is urgently needed by refugees in Russia and German Poland, and a Red Cross Commission of three men is now in that area to arrange for aiding these unfortunate, with the sanction of the German and Russian governments.

Conditions reported by this commission are appalling. There is an immediate need for 220,000 garments to keep these people from freezing to death.

Through the International Red Cross, relatives of those in the war area are being located, but the work is difficult because of the way that inhabitants of Poland were scattered by the war. Those seeking information are required to fill out an accepted questionnaire, which eliminates all non-essentials. Twenty-three requests have been made on the Lawrence County Chapter by local residents who have inquired about relatives in Poland, and to date, one family has been located.

At the night service, Evangelist Rodgers used as a subject "Bible Signs of the Second Coming of Christ". Tonight the Welker sisters are to sing by request "Stopping at the Sunshine Inn". Services will continue each night of this week at 7:30.

Michigan Singer At Nazarene Church

PROF. WALTER SCHULTZ

Prof. Walter Schultz of Owasso, Mich., is to arrive here today and assist in the singing at the revival meetings in progress at the Nazarene church, Falls and Beaver streets. Mr. Schultz closed a campaign in Weirton, W. Va., on Sunday. Large crowds packed the church for three services yesterday. They listened with interest to the preaching of "Cyclone Jim" Rodgers and the Younce brothers. The Sunday school attendance exceeded the total enrollment.

Young Progressives Have Annual Party

Sixth Anniversary Of Young Progressives Club Celebrated At Party

Social rooms of the Sons of Italy club, was the scene of a merry time when members of the Young Progressives club gathered Sunday evening at 8:30 o'clock for the club's sixth annual anniversary party.

An informal program was presented with various amusements being enjoyed. Prizes were awarded to Joe Monico and Louise Corio while other awards were given to Ann McCormick, Joe DeLorenzo, Lawrence Gilless and Josephine Morgan.

At the conclusion of the festivity, dainty refreshments were served to the group.

The success of the event is due to the untiring work of the following committee: Joe Cozza, general chairman; Carmella DeLuca, Antoinette Call, Eleanor Frabotta, Jane Christopher, Dora Greco, Viola Gesue, Andrew Ross, Sam Bucci, and Marshall Russetti.

On December 3, the club will have their next regular meeting.

Road Improvements Being Inspected

District Engineer In Charge Of Inspection By Beaver Lawrence Citizens

New road improvements in Lawrence and Beaver counties are being inspected today by groups of citizens from both counties in company with E. L. Schmidt, district engineer of the state highway department.

Several days ago Mr. Schmidt notified B. N. Hanlon, secretary of the New Castle Motor club, that the trip would be made today and asked him to invite a number of citizens interested in highways to accompany the group.

Included in the New Castle group were B. N. Hanlon, Highway Superintendent Edwin O. Reed, County Commissioner-elect W. R. Walton, Walter W. Duff and James D. Foster.

The group met Mr. Schmidt and other highway officials at Rochester this morning and after inspecting the Beaver county roads planned to come into Lawrence county.

DAILY DOZEN

(From the Medical Society of the State of Pennsylvania)

Are doctors keeping up with the age of their patients?

The population is aging, there are more old people today.

Much of a doctor's practice formerly was with children's diseases.

Now, geriatrics is increasing in importance.

Geriatrics is the study of the conditions of those growing old.

Many persons of 60 are certainly in good health.

But the body has undergone certain important changes.

Reaction to disease changes with increasing years.

The older body is different; treatment must fit this change.

The old body functions on a standard different from the youthful.

Today's physician is familiarizing himself with geriatrics.

He concerns himself with the problems of the health of the aged.
